

Leonard E. Session

Objective	Seeking employment in hospital laboratory
Education	B.S. Biological Sciences, University of Claifornia, Irvine, June 2001 Specialization: Cell Biology, and Molecular and Biochemistry
Relevant Coursework	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Immunology with Hematology• Cell Biology• Microbiology• Virology• Human Parasitology• Biochemisty Laboratory Certified Blood Withdrawal, EKG Technician
Certification	Summa Cum Laude, GPA 3.98/4.00
Honors	Dean's Honors List: 12 quarters Joseph H. Stephens Award for Outstanding Research in Molecular Biology & Biochemistry Phi Beta Kappa Golden Key Honor Society
Experience	Research Assistant, UCI Biochemistry Jan. 2000-Present Carried Out research project in Biochemistry in the electron transport chain in the Nitrogen-fixing bacteria Azotovacter Vinelandii. Work is in the provel of publication Volunteer, Friendly Hills Healthcare Network July 1999-June 2001 Worked in the Emergency Room and Dietary Nutrition Office. Transported and handled discharge of patients. Tutor, UCI Biological Sciences Department Jan.1999-Jan. 2000 Tutored students in various areas of need in the sciences.
Skills	Proficient in Microsoft Word, Word Perfect, Jandel, and Sigma Plot
Background	Helped organize the AIDS Walk in Orange County, 1997
Clubs & Activities	President, Future Physicians of America (FPA) Member, Flying Samaritans Member, Habitat for Humanities Enjoy traveling, skiing, and reading
References	Furnished upon request